Pattern of Administration

President's Cabinet

The President's Cabinet provides primary leadership support for strategic priorities and initiatives and serves to enhance communications within the College and the community. It functions as an advisory body to address and assist with matters of substantial importance to the college, including but not limited to college-wide initiatives and the strategic plan.

The President's Cabinet typically meets bimonthly with primary responsibility to: 1.) advise the president on matters of substantial importance to the College; 2.) generate recommendations for synthesis by the members of the Cabinet; and 3.) communicate directly with members of COTC, faculty, staff, students, and others as needed to ensure that channels of communication are open and fully effective.

The President's Cabinet consists of the: provost; vice president for business and finance; vice president & chief of staff; the director of advancement, the dean of students, the superintendent of facilities and support services, the director of marketing and public relations, the dean of enrollment management and the executive assistant to the president. These positions are unclassified, administrative & professional appointments. The positions of vice president for business and finance; vice president & chief of staff; dean of students; director of advancement, director of marketing and public relations, and superintendent of facilities and support services are shared with The Ohio State University at Newark. Incumbents in the positions of vice president for business and finance and the dean of students hold director-level titles for the Ohio State Newark portion of their position assignments. The vice president & chief of staff holds the title of "chief of staff" for the Ohio State Newark portion.

Campus Council

The Campus Council is an advisory group that serves the Ohio State Newark dean and director and the COTC president. Council membership includes the: COTC president; the Ohio State Newark dean and director; the vice president/director for business and finance; the vice president & chief of staff; the Ohio State Newark associate dean, COTC's provost; the OTDI relationship manager assigned to the campus, the director of advancement; the director of marketing and public relations, the dean of students/director of student life, faculty members designated by the dean and director and the president, and student representatives as needed.

The core team of Campus Council, comprised of COTC president; the Ohio State Newark dean and director; the vice president/director for business and finance; and the vice president & chief of staff, meets on a monthly basis. Other standing members of the Campus Council are invited to attend as agenda items dictate. The core team serves as the Executive Management Subcommittee of Campus Council.

Selection and appointment of cost-shared administrators

COTC maintains and supports a cost-sharing arrangement with Ohio State Newark. When a cost-shared administrator position becomes vacant, the Ohio State Newark dean/director and the COTC president consult with the council and relevant members of the campus community (e.g., faculty bodies and relevant student & staff groups) to determine the necessity of the position, revise its description, and determine the characteristics that a person must possess to qualify for the position. Once the Ohio State Newark dean/director and the COTC president, or their delegates, agree on the position description, the Office of Human Resources posts the position and recommends advertising sources (newspapers, journals, websites, social media, etcetera.) to the COTC president and Ohio State Newark dean/director.

The Ohio State Newark dean and director and COTC president jointly appoint a search committee consisting of faculty and staff at the campus. The committee follows the guidelines prescribed by the Office of Human Resources. Prior to initiating the search, the search committee receives a charge from the dean and director and the COTC president, or their designee. [continued...]

The committee receives nominations and applications and narrows the pool to a short list of two or three candidates. The committee then invites candidates to campus for interviews with the Ohio State Newark dean and director, the COTC president, faculty, staff, students, directors and industry groups, as appropriate.

The committee solicits input from members of the campus community who participate in interviews. The committee considers input from the campus community in its deliberations, and then presents the names of acceptable finalists to the president and dean and director, making sure that it expresses the opinions of all committee members. The committee also provides the criteria it used to evaluate and select finalists, and summarizes specific information regarding the strengths and weaknesses of each finalist, explaining any cases in which it finds a finalist unacceptable. When considering comparably qualified candidates, the committee will strongly regard diversity goals.

The dean and director and the COTC president jointly select the person for the position, and jointly negotiate terms of appointment with the candidate.

The employing institution for cabinet/council-level, cost-shared positions is as follows:
