Based upon the information you provided on your Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), we need more information about how you meet your living expenses and provide more than 50% support for your child/dependent.

1. Please explain, in detail, how you meet your financial obligations (i.e. rent/mortgage, food, utilities, medical costs, child care, transportation, miscellaneous expenses, etc.) and provide copies of your current lease and utility bills that are in your name.

2. Are you receiving public assistance or money from somewhere else to help pay your current living expenses? If so, please submit documentation of this assistance [i.e. current paystub, Job & Family Benefits (TANF), SNAP (food stamps), CareSource (medical card), Social Security, child support, disability, cash, etc.]

Did you and/or someone in your household receive benefits from SNAP (formerly known as the Food Stamp Program) during 2019 or 2020?

	No
	Yes

NOTE: if we have reason to believe that the information regarding the receipt of SNAP benefits is inaccurate, we may require documentation from the agency that issued the SNAP benefits for 2019 or 2020.

If you are unable to provide sufficient documentation showing you provide more than 50% support for your child/dependent, the Department of Education considers you a dependent student for the 2021-2022 year. Therefore, you must go back to your 2021-2022 FAFSA at www.fafsa.gov and answer "No" to the dependency questions in Step Three which ask if you support a child and/or dependent (Questions 50 and/or 51). Also, your parent(s) must complete the parent portion of your FAFSA and sign it with the parent FSA ID.
